

Safari Tent

Built on a purpose designed deck with appropriate reinforcements to secure the structure to it and provide necessary downforce. Typically the deck is fixed with concrete footings. Alternative methods such as ground screws, pins or integral ballast are also an option.

This temporary and demountable structure nearly always falls into permitted development. However you should check local restrictions if you are in an AONB, Conservation area or National Park.

Modular design allows the configuration of side panels to be customised.
